PEACE FOR CHINA MANDATES BY CENTRAL GOVERNMENT

TERMS OF SETTLEMENT

Canton, September 6.
As a result of the mission of Mr. Koo Ching and Generals Ching Chin and Chu Pui-teh to Nanning as peace mediators in the settlement of the Nanking-Kwangsi dispute, it is reported that Generals Li Tsung-jen and Pei Chung-hsi have accepted the Central Government's terms of settlement.

The Central Government has accordingly issued three mandates as follows:—

(a) General Li Tsung-jen to be appointed as Chairman of the Kwangsi Military Council;
(b) General Pei Chung-hsi to be appointed as Deputy Chairman of the Chekiang Military Council; and
(c) General Wang Shao-hung to be appointed as Chairman of the Chekiang Provincial Government.—Chinese Evening Post.

Hong Kong Slum Clearance

"Government Action Imperative"

Settlement Sites Suggested

The Editor,

"Hong Kong Daily Press."

Sir,—The question of slum clearance in Hong Kong is one that should interest every citizen of the Colony, irrespective of race or creed, but while it is a subject which should be given the widest publicity possible, one must be careful, in one's keen desire to place facts and figures before the public, not to be too enthusiastic and consequently advance plans that are impracticable due to sheer ambitiousness. It must be realised that in a scheme of such gigantic proportions, a great many difficulties will be encountered to pull it through.

A Housing Commission was appointed by the Government last year to deal with, amongst other things, the clearance of the slum areas, and it is no doubt due to the difficulties encountered, that their progress has been so slow.

Housing for the poorer classes is becoming more and more a matter for local authorities. Private enterprise has failed to supply a right type of housing, and it now devolves on the Governments concerned to provide such housing, either by direct action or through some form of building societies under Government control.

LANTAO ISLAND IMPRATICABLE

There has been a suggestion to transfer some of the people now living in the Colony's slum quarters to Lantau Island. The idea at first glance appears excellent, but after mature thought it seems impracticable mainly on account of lack of communications and water supply. The only area which appears to be suitable for this purpose is on the east end of the island, but even if the communications problem was solved, it seems extremely doubtful if suitable harbour facilities could be provided without undue expense.

LIKELY LOCATIONS

As an alternative, however, there are many areas in the New Territories which appear suitable for settlement, and which also possess adequate communication with Hong Kong and Kowloon. Un Long, Tai Po Market and Gin Drinkers' Bay are but three of the places that come to mind. There are many other suitable areas which might also be found in the New Territories which can be made easily accessible either by the construction of branch roads or branch railways.

SUGGESTED ACTION

However, that is a matter for the authorities alone. What I want to stress is that with the good name of Hong Kong at stake, every member of the community should help in this gigantic scheme by contributing towards the slum clearance fund.

Government action, of course, is imperative in order to carry the scheme to a successful conclusion and for that reason I hope it will

Will Rules Be Altered?

Possibility
Of Admitting
All Nationalities

It is learned from a reliable source that "the possibility of admitting all nationalities to the active membership of the European Young Men's Christian Association is being seriously discussed in certain circles."

"The Daily Press" informant states that the matter has not yet been officially submitted to the Board of Directors of the Y.M.C.A., but a move in this direction is contemplated with the least possible delay.

Steps towards a better racial understanding were made last season, when an "International Night" was inaugurated under the auspices of the "Y." Many nationalities contributed towards the undoubted success of the evening, a number of items being given by the local Portuguese community.

This season will see an expansion of work in this direction, which will be further augmented by weekly discussions in which laymen of all nationalities will be invited to address the gatherings.

Chengtu Incident And Mob Violence Deprecated

RINGLEADERS CAUGHT AND IMMEDIATELY EXECUTED

Chinese Sincerely Sorry For What Happened

BY C. KUANGSON YOUNG

(Managing-Director & Editor, China Press, Formerly Chinese Consul-General, London.)

Various versions have been received in Shanghai regarding the unfortunate incident at Chengtu on August 24th when two Japanese journalists died of injuries received during a mob attack on the Tachuen Hotel where they were staying.

Whether the attack was provoked or not, the loss of lives as a result of mob violence is regretted by all.

The victims were Mr. Keiji Fukagawa, staff member of the Shanghai Mainichi and Mr. K. Wainabe, correspondent in Shanghai of the Osaka Mainichi and the Tokyo Nichi Nichi. The other two Japanese in the party who escaped with injuries were Mr. T. Tanaka of the Shanghai office of the South Manchuria Railway and Mr. S. Seto, a businessman of Hankow.

Reports from all sources agreed that the attack of the mob was not only centered on the Japanese visitors but the Tachuen Hotel, a department store by the name of Chiao-tung Company where, it was alleged, smuggled goods were being disposed of in large quantities. In addition to the above, Yihching, Hengpao and other stores were also destroyed in the course of the attack. Numerous Chinese nationals were wounded, including Inspector Liu, Sergeant Wang of the Bureau of Public Safety and six policemen who were rushed to the scene to quell the riot. The two ringleaders of the mob, Liu Cheng-hsien and Su Teh-sheng, were caught and immediately executed by order of General Liu Hsiang, Chairman of the Szechwan Provincial Government.

CALM URGED

The Chinese Government leaders—Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek, Vice-President H. H. Kung, and Foreign Minister Chang Chun— and the Japanese Ambassador, Mr. Kawagoe, took a serious view of the matter and emissaries have been despatched to Chengtu from both sides to obtain first hand and reliable information regarding the unfortunate incident. At the same time, the spokesman of the Ministry of Foreign Affairs in Nanking expressed the hope that both China and Japan would bear in mind the general situation between the two countries and abstain from any emotional extremity so as to avoid unnecessary and undesirable complications—an expression that has received general endorsement from the press throughout this country.

Take the Central Daily News as an example, it editorially urged Japan not to make too big an affair out of an unfortunate local incident. Going further, it stated: "Regardless of the cause of the unfortunate deaths of the two Japanese citizens, the deepest regret should be expressed by both the Chinese Government and the Chinese people and we sincerely believe that the Government will make justified compensations to the families of the two victims in accordance with international diplomatic practice."

DIPLOMATIC PRACTICE

Mobs have taken the lives of innocent victims elsewhere as well as in China. The momentary relapse from law and order has happened and will happen in the most civilized and best governed countries. In reciting below a few historical incidents, it is farthest from the writer's thought to justify in any form or manner the action of the unruly Chengtu rioters. There is no such thing as two wrongs make a right. Nevertheless, a review of these incidents is a fit reminder to those who have the improvement of Sino-Japanese relations at heart that the situation should not, intentionally or inadvertently, be aggravated by emotional utterances or unreasonable demands.

LIABILITY LIMITED

In all cases of mob violence, the liability of the government, according to international usage, is limited to punishment of the culprits and payment of a reasonable compensation. Demands other than the above are considered as extraneous. When the local authorities are successful in suppressing the mob, and apprehending the ringleaders within a reasonable time, it is customary for the government to disclaim any national liability.

Mr. Everts, Secretary of State of the United States Government, in a despatch to the Chinese Minister in Washington on December

30, 1880, when discussing the case of mob attacks on Chinese residents at Denver, said:

"It seems superfluous to recall to your attention the fact, but too well attested by history, that on occasions, happily infrequent, often without motive in their inception and always without reason in their working, lawless persons will band together and make up a force in the character of a mob of sufficient power and numerical strength to defy, for the moment, the denunciations of the law and the power of the local authorities. Such incidents are peculiar to no country. Neither the United States nor China are exempt from such disasters. In the case now under consideration, it is seen that the local authorities brought into requisition all the means at their command for the suppression of the mob, and that these means proved so effective that within twenty-four hours regular and lawful authority was re-established, the mob completely subdued, and many of the ringleaders arrested."

"Under circumstances of this nature when the Government has put forth every legitimate effort to suppress a mob that threatens or attacks alike the safety and security of its own citizens and the foreign residents within its borders, I know of no principle or national obligation, and there certainly is none arising from treaty stipulation which renders it incumbent on the Government of the United States to make indemnity to the Chinese residents of Denver, who in common with citizens of the United States, at the time residents in that city, suffered losses from the operations of the mob."

In the case of a mob attack on the Chinese residents at Rock Springs, in the Territory of Wyoming, on September 2, 1885, when twenty-eight Chinese were killed, Mr. Bayard, Secretary of State, in a lengthy document addressed to the Chinese Minister while refusing to admit liability proposed the grant, "ex gratia," of pecuniary relief to the sufferers. Provision of indemnity was made by a special act of Congress.

MOB VIOLENCE IN KOREA AND JAPAN

Incidents occurred in Korea and Japan in 1923, 1927 and 1931 when Chinese residents became the target of Japanese mob violence. So far as the public is aware, the wrong done to the sufferers and the bereaved families left behind by the more unfortunate victims has remained unredressed up to the present day.

Following the earthquake of September 1923, as a result of mob violence and actions of Japanese soldiers and police, 437 Chinese were said to have been killed.

In December 1927, riots broke out in Korea resulting in the death of two Chinese and the wounding of forty-eight others, while the direct losses in regard to property were estimated at Yen 29,000. The Chinese Consulate at Chemulpo was also the object of attack.

On July 2 and subsequent days 1931, riotous outbreaks took place in various cities in Korea against the Chinese citizens. According to official sources, 143 Chinese were killed, 72 missing, and 343 wounded.

In conclusion, may it be emphasized that the reason for summarizing the above incidents is purely to substantiate the statement so admirably put by the American Secretary of State, Mr. Everts, that "Such incidents are peculiar to no country."

SINCERELY SORRY

The Chinese are sincerely sorry that such an incident as that in Chengtu should have taken place. Nevertheless, it cannot be ignored that the local authorities, according to all reports on hand, exercised due diligence in suppressing the riot and bringing the ringleaders to book within 24 hours. The relations of China and Japan are being gradually improved through the untiring efforts of the Chinese Government leaders. It is obvious that if Japan is sincerely desiring the further improvement of friendly relations between the two countries, an unfortunate local incident beyond the momentary control of the local authorities should be calmly dealt with within its local proportions.

SHANGHAI DROWNING TRAGEDY

After Fall From Canoe

RESCUERS BAFFLED BY TIDE CURRENTS

Victor Marcal, an eighteen-year old youth residing at 193A North Szechuen Road, Shanghai, was last week at the Kaohsiang beach after falling out of a canoe in which he had ventured into the strong currents off the beach, accompanied by a friend. Among those who witnessed the tragedy were the youth's mother, who was on the beach but did not realize that her son was involved until informed by one of the would-be rescuers who returned after a futile attempt to pick the boy up.

The accident occurred after 11:30 a.m., after Victor Marcal had paddled a short distance from the shore. His friend had gone over the side of the canoe for a swim. Apparently Marcal, who was not a strong swimmer, fell out of the canoe, and his cries attracted the attention of his friend who, after giving the alarm to those on shore, went to the rescue of his comrade. Mr. R. Canavarro, who was on the beach, immediately swam out to the assistance of the drowning youth, but when he was only a few feet away Marcal sank.

Mr. Canavarro shouted to a Mr. Buckley, a friend on the beach, for assistance, and the latter swam out fully clothed in an attempt to save the boy.

While the rescuers were searching for him in the turbid waters, Marcal came up for a last time behind their backs. Too late they realized where he was, and desperate diving where he had last been seen failed to recover the body. The rescue was finally abandoned, and it was not until after 4 o'clock that the body was discovered by a Chinese. It was brought up to Shanghai in the evening.

A very strong tide was running at the time of the accident, and this made the work of the rescuers the more difficult. Victor Marcal had left school only recently, and gave promise of becoming a good athlete. His brother, Mr. L. Marcal, is well known in Shanghai football circles. Admiration was expressed for the efforts of the would-be rescuers who searched for the body until all hope was ended, and they themselves were exhausted.

PRIVATE RIGHTS ON FORESHORE

New Legislation Proposed

The "Gazette" contains the draft of the Public Reclamations Validation and Claims Ordinance.

The Ordinance deals with the surrender of rights over land required for the purposes of public utility. It is explained that certain works set out in the schedule to the Bill have been undertaken over and upon unleased Crown foreshores and sea bed without complaint but at the same time without legislative authority, other than that which is contained in the Annual Appropriation Ordinances which have justified expenditure on the undertakings but have contained no provision for the extinction of rights or for compensation where compensation is due.

The possibility of enacting a Bill which while validating past works would give the Government general power to undertake similar works in the future has been carefully explored and been found open to serious objection. It has therefore been abandoned.

The objects of this Bill are different. They are first to validate the extinction of any public or private rights which might be considered to subsist in the works enumerated in the Schedule, which, as has been stated, have been undertaken without complaint; and, secondly, to make provision for a scheme of notice and compensation which is to be applied in the case of future Ordinances authorising undertakings of this nature.

stands out most prominently as we watch the shore. Newcomers comment on the buildings clinging to the slopes of the Peak on the number of craft in the harbour, and the whole lovely panorama.

Then back to Hainan Island, with a calm sea and a high tide to give us a pleasant landing in Hoihow. New buildings are rising in the port, and the change from Kwangtung to Shanghai currency seems to be practically accomplished. A new system of licensing commercial cars has been evolved, and the initiated can tell by the serial number to which part of the island a car belongs. There is said to be a law forbidding overloading of cars and limiting the number of passengers per car, but it is hardly in working order yet.

A seventy-five mile trip to Kachek was taken in a Chevrolet touring car. The freight was roped on outside as usual, and eight or nine passengers tucked in and on. The speedometer record showed a total of 45.151 miles and the driver said the car was new when he purchased it a little over two years ago. The Ford in which we made the return trip showed slightly more than 25,000 miles for over a year of use.

When we left Kachek at 7 the mission compound barometer was falling, it was raining, clouds were scudding rapidly across the sky, and the wind was gusty. We had hard rain for perhaps half of the journey. At Lio-ngat, some twenty-five miles from Hoihow, men who came out to catch rides on the runningsboards of our car said the local military headquarters had received telephone messages from Hoihow that a typhoon was raging in the vicinity of Hong Kong and would strike Hainan about eleven o'clock. So excited were our car men at the news that they did not even stop at the ferry to eat their rice—an unprecedented omission—but it showed their credence of modern weather prophecy. To me the ease with which such messages can be transmitted to us now is the marvel.

On the car men were talking of the excellent pineapple crop gathered this summer. I humbly inquired as to why no attempt was made to can the fruit. They said one village had attempted to do it a few years ago, but had been unable to secure a market and had failed to the tune of over $10,000.00. The fruit had not been properly sweetened even then, when sugar was not nearly so exorbitant in price as it is now, and the inferior quality of the tins had caused them to rust quickly. There had been leakage, and also the unattractive appearance of the cans had injured their sale. As this is the only part of China where pineapples flourish, and as we also have other fruits available such as lychees, guavas, mangoes and dragons' eyes, it does seem a pity not to make full use of them. Perhaps on the return from the next home, leave canning factories may be operating—who knows?

HENDAYE AS REFUGE

Half Of Iron In Flames

RED MILITIA OUTRAGES

Berlin, Sept. 4.
The German News Agency representative in Hendaye writes that at 4 p.m. on Friday half Iron was in flame, one explosion following the other. All kinds of Militia and civilians are still pouring into Hendaye, and this city is the scene of indescribable confusion. Only after a detachment of 150 men from the 18th Infantry Regiment from Bayonne were sent, was it possible for the authorities to maintain some kind of order.

On the Spanish side of the International Bridge, some isolated Red Militia sentries still "hold the position", because it is impossible for the Nationalists to fire, as the bullets might hit the French sentries on the other side of the bridge. These Red sentries, in their headless frenzy, will not allow other Spaniards to seek safety in France. Finally one man, with a little child in his arms, dashed across the bridge, despite the bullets which the Reds fired; and managed to reach the French side in safety. Here he was received with cheers. On the Spanish side of the bridge, however, was his wife, with another child in her arms. The Hendaye representative of the French
"Havas" News Agency, under peril of his life, dashed across the bridge, threw himself flat on his face three times to dodge bullets, and reached the woman in safety, snatched the child from her, and ran back. He was hailed as a hero when he returned, himself and the child safe. Then some French civilians fitted their car with mattresses, and thus rescued
the fully exhausted woman.

FLAMING RUINS

Hendaye, Sept. 4.
Iron presented a terrible picture on Friday evening. Street fighting had practically ceased at 7 p.m., since the whole town is a mass of flaming ruins, one dynamited house after the other blowing up. In this inferno there are still red fanatics who dynamite the cellars of houses that still stand.
The town is now burning at more than 100 places at once.
Fuenterabia is also evacuated. It is stated that over 5,000 refugees came to France on Friday. Among the refugees is the Governor of San Sebastian. He has been given to understand that San Sebastian would surrender unconditionally to avoid further bloodshed.

It is stated that the Reds have murdered the monks of the monastery of Fuenterabia. The Nationalists from planes having distinguished the corpses on the roof.

GHOSTS MARRY IN KWANGTUNG

Thirty "Pairs" United
At Mass Wedding

The mass marriage fad, which has been adopted by normal persons, famine refugees and inmates of a blind school, has now spread to ghosts!

According to the "Holmes News," a mosquito newspaper, the first mass marriage ceremony for ghosts was to be held on the 15th day of the Seventh Moon, when 30 pairs of ghosts were to be joined in wedlock. The day is known as Yu Lan festival, the last day of the "clothes burning" custom when the ghosts after a "holiday" will return to their "home."

The site of the marriage was fixed at Sunwei district in Kwang-tung province where 99 per cent.
of women are said to be extremely superstitious. Ghosts in area that have been married, but this is the first time that a mass marriage has been suggested. According to customs which have been handed down for many generations, the matrimony is contracted by parents whose children have died while infants but who are now of marriageable age. Fearing that they—the deceased—will be "lonely" in the underworld, the parents have frequently held weddings for their sons or daughters, by offering sacrifices in the form of burnt offerings.

The mass marriage this time, is reported to have been started by one Li Lu-pin, an unemployed man who has been making a handsome income through "collections" from the superstitious women. When he suggested the plan, a flock of parents asked him to be the "go-between." A charge of $2 for each marriage was collected. The women said that they liked the idea because it was so cheap and so simple.

ARMS EMBARGO ON SPAIN

French Communist Demand.

Paris, Sept. 4.

The immediate raising of the arms embargo to Spain by France is demanded by the Secretary General of the French Communist Party, who, in a letter to the Socialist Party proposes, that both parties should send a joint deputation to Premier Blum to request him to take this step, which is so vital for the cause of the Spanish republic and liberty.

This demand, so the Secretary General states, is justified, as it is reported that Italy has delivered 24 planes to the Nationalists.

LONDON UNIVERSITY'S NEW BUILDINGS

SMALL FRACTION NOW OPEN FOR USE.

London will have good cause to be proud of its new University buildings, soon to dominate a large slice of Bloomsbury. Emerging from its splints and scaffolding, a small fraction of the huge undertaking which will cover all Montague-place and Torrington-square, is now ready for use.

At a very private view its first secrets were revealed. Picking one's perilous way over planks and scaffolding, among electric drills and several hundred busy workmen, an impression of the grace and simplicity of the building grew slowly from the chaos.

"We shall have no boiler house, no smoking chimneys and no dirt," said a smiling official. "This will probably be the biggest undertaking of its kind in England run electrically."

The main entrance to the Senate House is quietly impressive, with that curiously square-cut formal dignity of ancient Egyptian architecture, which has a way of looking pleasantly modern when transplanted to our own day and use.

The entire hall, stairs and walls are covered in buff-coloured Roman marble.

The ceiling is white plaster, of which the long middle panels are carved with what seems a decorative motif of hops.

Not a bit of it. This is London's own plane tree, given place of honour in London's own university.

SMALL INSCRIPTIONS

However, to remind Londoners that a university is an international centre there are also small inscriptions in Chinese, Arabic, Sanskrit, Arabic, Persian, etc.

The assembly hall, lectures rooms and the giant senate room running the whole length of the middle block of the first floor are sound-proofed, and are equipped with air-conditioning.

The huge kitchens are a masterpiece of modern planning.

Two great refectories run on either side of the kitchens, one for the staff, one for the administration. These will eventually have

SOLID GOLD MEDAL

The world's most famous invention in any one year is in future to win for its creator a new medal, the Yorkshire Medal, to be awarded by the Institute of Patentees. It is solid gold and valued at 25 guineas. There is one condition of the award—the invention must not in any way relate to an article of warfare. The medal is provided by the bequest of a Yorkshireman who died three years ago. Mr. Hoffman Wood, an architect, of Addingham.

"We are very proud of the remarkable planning Mr. Charles Holden, the architect, has made of this job," said another official. "People who expect a 'stunt' will be disappointed. "THE PAYOFF"

"The Payoff." First National's latest newspaper drama, comes to the Star Theatre to-day, with a tri-star cast, including James Dunn, Claire Dodd and Patricia Ellis.

The picture is entirely different from its predecessors in the newspaper field, centering about the activities of an honest sports writer, his contact with the gambling fraternity, and his love affairs, which, incidentally, furnish a new twist to the triangular romance.

The picture is based on the story by George Bricker, for many years a newspaper writer.

James Dunn has the role of the sports writer, Claire Dodd is the selfish wife and Patricia Ellis a newspaper woman genuinely in love with him. Dunn is fired from his job when he ceases in his attack on the ace gambler, a part played by Alan Dinehart, and is practically down and out when Frankie Darro, as a jockey whom he had befriended tips him off to a frame-up in the big race of the season.

Robert Florey directed the picture from the screen play by George Bricker and Joel Sayre.

"MIDSUMMER NIGHT'S DREAM"

Shakespeare's greatest comedy, "A Midsummer Night's Dream" has been produced by Max Reinhardt for Warner Brothers and he has made a creditable job of a difficult undertaking. Besides its entertainment value, the film is of the type where imagination has its fullest play. A distinguished cast has been assembled, including Dick Powell, Joe E. Brown, James Cagney, Olivia de Havilland, Victor Jory, Anita Louise, Hugh Herbert, Ian Hunter and a host of others.

James Cagney and Joe E. Brown are the leading mummies, who stage a play for the wedding ceremony of the Duke of Athens and his Amazonian bride.

Dick Powell is Lysander with Olivia de Havilland playing opposite him. Jean Muir and Ross Alexander are the other two romantic characters.

Other mummies include Hugh Herbert, Frank McHugh, Otis Harlan, Dewey Robinson and Arthur Treacher.

"Victor Jory is Oberon with the beautiful Anita Louise playing opposite him as his Queen and Ian Hunter is the Duke.

Mickey Rooney is the mischievous Puck.

"SUTTER'S GOLD"

The Queen's and Alhambra Theatres begin its simultaneous run of "Sutter's Gold." The production will go down in cinema history as one of the outstanding films of the year. It has a magnificent sweep and power which stays in the mind long after the picture is seen. "Sutter's Gold" tells the story of one of the most appealing figures in American annals: a man who built a fortune and was despoiled of it. It tells of his adventures, his courage, of the strange twist of fate which left him struggling for justice. Edward Arnold's characterization, showing Sutter as an absorbingly human personality, reaches down deep into the sympathies of the audience. Arnold gives a very natural performance. Lee Tracy and Binnie Barnes support him in the cast.

"SMALL TOWN GIRL"

Half a million film fans can't be wrong! And that's why Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer teamed Janet Gaynor and Robert Taylor in the romantic leads of "Small Town Girl," which is to-day at the Majestic Theatre. "Small Town Girl" presents Miss Gaynor as a New England girl who rebels at the humdrum existence of life in a little town and impetuously elopes with Taylor, a sophisticated young city doctor. The elopement precipitates a social and domestic crisis, since Taylor is engaged to a Boston society girl, and Miss Gaynor finds herself ostracized by her husband's smart friends. The story concerns her determined fight to overcome this obstacle and to win the cooling love of her bridegroom.

Produced by Hunt Stromberg and directed by William Wellman, from a screen play by John Lee Mahlin and Edith Fitzgerald, the picture boasts an excellent supporting cast headed by Binnie Barnes and including Lewis Stone, Andy Devine, Elizabeth Patterson, Frank Craven, James Stewart and a score of others.

I am very fastidious about
my Talcum Powder

After the bath following vigorous exercise we all need a powder that is absolutely smooth and silky. That's why I use Cuticura Talcum. It is the most exquisitely fine powder I've ever used. And the perfume is a wonderful blend—both fragrant and wholesome—it smells so clean and sweet.

The reason why Cuticura Talcum is used by women who are extra particular about their toilet powder is that it has a fineness and purity which is unexcelled.

Cuticura is scientifically prepared by a special process—it has the same guaranteed quality of excellence which has made Cuticura Soap famous all over the world. If the skin is overheated and chafed, Cuticura Talcum soothes it at once. Its cool 'satiny' softness is like a balm. Use it after bathing—before dancing or strenuous exercise. It absorbs perspiration—you stay sweet, dainty and fresh for hours.

Sold by all Chemists and Stores.

CABLES "SWENONIS"

TWO FUSILIERS SENT TO PRISON

Sequel To Smash And Grab Raid In City
PREVIOUS CONVICTIONS
AGAINST BOTH ACCUSED

Fusilier James Benjamin Williams, 28, and Fusilier William Ernest Davies, 25, both of the Royal Welsh Fusiliers, stationed at Hankow Barracks, Shamshu-po, appeared before Mr. S. F. Balfour at the Central Magistracy on Saturday charged with theft of a wristlet watch from No. 7, Chater Road, occupied by Messrs. J. Ullmann & Co., on Friday night, when they smashed a window and attempted to make good their escape. Both men were under the influence of liquor it was alleged.

Williams was sentenced to five months' imprisonment and Davies to three months. An order for compensation to Messrs. Ullmanns for the damage to their plate glass was deferred. The damaged glass stated to be valued at between $250 to $300 was insured.

Detective Sergeant D. Mann prosecuted, and Mr. J. Dubois appeared as complainant. Lt. the Hon. G. R. Clegg Hill, of the Royal Welsh Fusiliers, was present in Court.

According to the prosecution, the two accused were seen on Friday at 10 p.m. outside the shop by a private watchman. Some minutes later they were both seen to smash the plate-glass with canes they were carrying and take something from the window. This later proved to be a wristlet watch valued at $70.

The watchman raised an alarm and the two soldiers ran into Pedder Street. They were apprehended by detectives and constables on that beat who were attracted by the police whistles.

Lt. the Hon. Clegg Hill stated that both men had fair records as soldiers.

Det-Sergt. Mann said that both men had previous convictions.

LOCAL VOLUNTEERS TO HAVE CAMPS

It was officially stated to the "Daily Press" yesterday that the Hong Kong Volunteer Defence Corps will have at least two camps towards the end of the year, and that the report published in an evening contemporary that there would be no Volunteer camps was incorrect. Further particulars regarding the forthcoming camps will be announced later.

COAL BASKET THEFTS DECREASING

ACTIVE PROSECUTION
BEARS RESULTS

Two coolie women were concerned in a charge of theft of empty coal baskets, heard by Mr. Schofield at the Central Magistracy on Saturday and because the prosecution expressed a desire that they did not wish to press the charge, both were bound over to be of good behaviour for a year. It was intimated that although thefts of this nature had greatly diminished since active prosecution had been carried out by the Coal Merchant's Guild, it was not totally abolished.

Wong Mui, 26, married woman was charged with theft of five baskets, property of Mah Chin Fong, contractor, No. 246 Des Voeux Road, West and two baskets from Lau Hay Chak, 400 Lockhart Road. Wong was bound over in the sum of $50. Cheung Hung, 30, married woman, charged with the theft of four baskets from No. 248 Des Voeux Road, was bound over in $25.

Mr. F. J. Zimmern appeared on behalf of the Coal Merchant's Guild, while Detective-Sergeant Downman was for the police.

During the first hearing of charges levied against a number of coolies several weeks ago, brought before the same Court, it was revealed by Mr. Zimmern that the loss sustained by coal contractors in empty baskets stolen, amounted to $5,000 a year. About $200 a month of empty baskets were missing after a day's working.

Talking Picture Missing

SINGAPORE MAN
ACCUSED OF THEFT

A Chinese talking picture reel, entitled "The Maiden Spy," featured in the charges brought against a Singapore Chinese, at the Central Magistracy on Saturday before Mr. S. F. Balfour.

Lum Woon Kwai, 29, of No. 105 Tras Street, Singapore, described as of independent means was charged with stealing a positive copy of the talking picture "The Maiden Spy" on August 31, at No. 44 Pak Tai Street, Mau Tan Kok, the property of a film producer.

An alternate charge alleging fraudulent conversion of the film while "delivering it with Yip Yat Chow to Wong Gim Chow" in Singapore, was also instigated by the prosecution.

Mr. D. H. Blake appeared for the complainant, while Mr. W. A. MacKinnon was for the defence.

When the case was called, the Magistrate intimated that he wished to see both parties in Chambers. An adjournment was accordingly made. Later it was announced that the case was adjourned "sine die."

EXCITEMENT AT STAR FERRY

Fuse Box Set Alight

Excitement was caused at the Hong Kong Star Ferry wharf yesterday at 1 p.m. when a fuse box circuit and caught alight.

An immediate alarm was raised by startled pedestrians, and a phone call was put through by someone to Central Police Station and the Central Fire Brigade. Two fire fighting appliances and the Emergency Unit responded, but on arrival they found the fire had been extinguished.

A large crowd gathered on the water front with the appearance of the Emergency Unit van and the two fire engines. Traffic was brought to a standstill for some time until an inspection revealed no further possibility of the outbreak spreading.

A gang of workmen from the Hong Kong Electric Company were early on the scene, and the electrical supply was soon restored.

HUSBAND TO THE RESCUE

Wife Discharged
On Receiving Count

CULPRIT REMANDED

Ng Ming, 22, unemployed, made a fine haul from a widow, Ho Lai Sze, of 13, Lion Rock Road, on September 5.

Not knowing what to do with his stolen goods, which were two gold earrings, two gold finger rings, 13 pieces of clothing and a sovereign, all to the value of $107, he gave them to Li Kiu for safe keeping.

Li Kiu was a married woman, but she could not resist the dazzling jewels, so she kept them in her custody.

Her husband, suspicious of such goings-on, notified the authorities, and upon a search of their premises No. 16, Shek Ku Lung Road, second floor, the jewellery was recovered.

Brought before Mr. E. Himsforth, at the Kowloon Magistracy, the husband told his Worship, "This is the first time that she has done anything of this sort. She is still living with me!"

When Mr. Himsforth asked him if he could look after his wife if she were discharged, he replied in the affirmative.

Continuing, his Worship said, "I shall look to you to keep her in order in future!" and discharged the defendant.

The miscreant "who helped to bring her into Court, Ng Ming, by making her a receiver of stolen goods, was remanded in police custody for 48 hours for further evidence to be called.

STEP-SISTER'S PLEA OF NO AVAIL

Man Who Had Been In Prison

ROBBERY COUP
FAILS

Two men almost succeeded in a robbery coup at No. 54, Bonham Road in the early hours of Saturday morning. One perpetrated the robbery whilst the other kept a look out. Just as success seemed certain, two policemen came on the scene, and arrested the men.

On Saturday before Mr. S. F. Balfour at the Central Magistracy, Lam Yau, 32, unemployed, admitted theft of a quantity of knives, forks, spoons and an electric fan. Lai Cheung, 45, unemployed, pleaded not guilty.

Sergeant W. Sullivan stated that when the two men were being placed in the police cells after their arrest, an Indian constable heard first accused tell Cheung that he had pleaded guilty, and instructed the latter to plead not guilty.

Cheung elected to give evidence and said that he was looking for a friend when he was arrested. Asked whether he had witnessed to substantiate his claim, prisoner replied that he had. At this stage of the proceedings, a woman cried out from the rear of the Court where she was seated. She said that she was his step-sister.

She testified that defendant bore a good character, according to her knowledge.

Sergt. Sullivan: Do you know that he served in jail? No, I do not.

Cheung's criminal record was then produced and handed to the Magistrate.

Prior to Cheung entering the witness box, the Magistrate stated that he thought he could not convict Cheung on a charge of larceny, as there was not sufficient evidence. He would change the charge to one of uttering for an unlawful purpose. However, when accused record was produced, the original charge of theft was left standing.

A further charge of returning from banishment was admitted by Cheung.

Sentence of six months' imprisonment was imposed on first accused, whilst Cheung was sent to jail for three months for theft. For returning before the expiration of a banishment warrant, Cheung was additionally sentenced to a year's imprisonment.

"Queen Mary's" Chief Engineer

A "BLUE RIBAND"
WELSHMAN

Mr. Llewelyn Roberts, Of Llandudno

It would be difficult, if not impossible, to find a busier or more talked-of man in the world of marine engineering at the present time than Mr. Llewelyn Roberts, Chief Engineer of the new Cunard-White Star liner "Queen Mary," whose brilliant career is the subject of a worthy eulogium in the current issue of the "Marine Engineers' Officers' Magazine."

"It is inevitable and fitting," states this publication, "that he should be very much in the public eye, as only to the few comes the achievement of reaching the peak of the profession as Chief Engineer of a large passenger liner, and not to every one of that few such eminence as attaches to Mr. Roberts' post in the wonder ship of the generation."

Long-trying and proved ability of an exceptional order is the only passport, and Mr. Roberts' record of service in the profession demonstrates his possession of that ability in a high degree.

BRILLIANT CAREER
A Welshman, born in Llandudno, and son of Mr. Luther Roberts, a well-known builder and contractor, Mr. Roberts entered the service of the Cunard Company in the year 1904, being appointed a Junior Engineer in the a.s. "Ternia." Thereafter he was successively engaged in progressive stages of rank, in the steamers "Veria," "Umbria," "Lucania," "Mauretania," and "Lusitania."

Later, while Second Engineer of the "Andania," he was present at the first landing of British Forces at the Dardanelles on Sunday, April 25, 1915, the vessel at that time being engaged in troop-lifting.

He has a vivid recollection of that historic event of the Great War, and his diary of experiences at the time would make interesting reading.

At the close of the War in 1918, Mr. Roberts was appointed senior Second Engineer of the "Mauretania," and his promotion to the post of Staff Chief Engineer of the same vessel followed in 1921.

In this capacity he served until early in the year 1925, when he was appointed Chief Engineer of the "Laconia." Later in the same year he was transferred as Staff Chief Engineer of the "Aquitania," and within the twelve-month became her Chief Engineer.

With the "Aquitania" Mr. Roberts continued for five years, and an appointment as Chief Engineer of the "Berengaria" followed, from 1931 to 1934. He was then chosen to be Chief Engineer of the R.M.S. "Queen Mary," then under construction at Clydebank as "No. 534."

No emphasis is needed on the facts of Mr. Roberts' imposing record of service in senior rank in ships of the very highest class, stamping him as a marine engineer of quite exceptional attainments, and his appointment as Chief Engineer of the "Queen Mary" is a well-deserved honour.

In another direction, not immediately connected with marine engineering, Mr. Roberts has also a claim to distinction, he having been a principal in the first surgical operation carried out at sea. This was in the year 1905, aboard the "Ivernia," when he was operated on for appendicitis, then a malady not so commonly in the news as it is to-day.

The operation was notable not only for its pioneer nature, but for the fact of it being carried out by a surgeon travelling as a passenger in the vessel, with only a minimum supply of instruments, and it is gratifying to record that what was undoubtedly a daring venture was in every way successful.

PRAISED BY LLOYD GEORGE
Mr. Roberts' home town, Llandudno, is honouring him as one of her distinguished sons by organising a testimonial presentation as a mark of pride in his appointment to the "Queen Mary," and in connection with this, that other famous Welshman, Mr. Lloyd George, has written as follows:—

"To his fellow-townpeople and to his many friends in North Wales and elsewhere, this will afford an opportunity of showing their respect and admiration for him, and provide a means of expressing the joy they feel on his preferment to such a responsible position."

The "Queen Mary," as the last word in big-ship construction, has gripped the imagination and fired the enthusiasm and admiration not only of Britons, but of the world. That in Mr. Llewelyn Roberts, her Chief Engineer, she has the right man in the right place, can be stated with equal confidence.

There was a large attendance at the ceremony which was fully choral. The Rev. J. R. Higgins, Vicar of St. Andrew's, officiated. The bride, who was dressed in a beautiful gown designed by "Eunice," carried a bouquet of pink roses, and was attended by Miss Marie Clarke as bridesmaid.

A reception was afterwards held at the Peninsula Hotel, where the health of the happy couple was honoured by a large gathering.

The honeymoon is being spent at Fanling, the bride's going-away dress being a blue linen tweed costume, trimmed with white accessories.

TAKING ART PIECES TO NEW ZEALAND

Chinese Treasures
Carried From London

FOR EXHIBITION IN AUCKLAND

Captain Humphreys-Davies, soldier, traveller, adventurer and collector of Oriental art pieces, left London recently for New Zealand, taking with him 320 examples of Chinese art to be exhibited at the Auckland War Memorial Museum.

Before leaving, Capt. Humphreys-Davies told the "Evening Standard" something of his life and adventures.

"I have been an art enthusiast since I was young," he said. "I still have catalogues of the Victoria and Albert Museum written when I was a child."

Captain Humphreys-Davies has collected in India, in Bali, in Celebes, China, Japan and Malaya as well as in Europe.

It is from the darkest corners of the Malayan jungle that some of his most prized treasures have come. His knowledge of the language enabled him to make friends with the natives in their huts.

After an hour or two smoking with them he would ask to see what treasures they had put away up among the rafters, as is their custom. Then they would bring down pottery and porcelain that had lain dust-covered for generations.

"But it has not only been in my travels through the jungles that I have discovered bargains," he continued. "My latest discovery was in a shop in the East End of London a few months ago. In the dark recesses of the shop I found a tall Magnolia pattern jar. According to the shopkeeper it had been in the shop as long as he had, and that was more than 45 years. It turned out afterwards that the jar was worth thousands of pounds."

By section 12 of Ordinance No. 7 of 1865, as amended by section 3 (2) (k) of Ordinance No. 20 of 1936, uttering false coin as or for current gold or silver coin with intent to defraud is punishable with imprisonment for any term not exceeding one year.

By section 14 of Ordinance No. 7 of 1865, as amended by section 3 (2) (n) of Ordinance No. 20 of 1936, the uttering of any false or counterfeit coin intended to resemble, or pass for current copper coin, knowing the same to be false or counterfeit, as well as the possession with intent to utter three or more of such coins, knowing the same to be false or counterfeit, is punishable with imprisonment for any term not exceeding one year.

The effect of this Bill will be to raise the penalty under sections 12 and 14 of the principal Ordinance to the same maximum as that provided in section 10 thereof.

Counterfeiters in the Colony seem to concentrate their energies on the production of spurious ten-cent pieces. The older issues of genuine ten cent pieces, as specified in the Third Schedule to the Hong Kong (Coinage) Order, 1895, were silver coins. The new issue under Proclamation No. 4 of the 9th November, 1935, is of cupro-nickel.

For the purposes of Ordinance No. 7 of 1865, as amended by section 3 (2) (a) of Ordinance No. 20 of 1936, the older issues are classed as silver coin and the new issue is classed as copper coin, with the result that the penalty varies with the issue of ten cent pieces which is counterfeited. The object of this Bill is to correct that anomaly and to render offenders against sections 12 and 14 of the principal Ordinance liable to the heavier penalty already imposed on offenders against section 10. It is felt that such heavier penalties are necessary and it is hoped that they will serve as a deterrent.

PHILIPPINE ISLES TO BE 'GIBRALTAR'

DEVELOPMENT OF SYSTEM OF FORTIFICATION

Maj. Gen. Douglas MacArthur, military adviser to the Philippine Government, said recently the national defence programme now under way was designed to make invasion of the islands too costly for even "the strongest and most ruthless nation in the world."

(General MacArthur, former Chief of Staff of the American Army, was loaned to the new Commonwealth Government to assist in formulating and perfecting its defence plans. He holds the rank of Field Marshal of the Philippine Army.)

SWITZERLAND CITED

Outlining defence plans and citing Switzerland's security, Ethiopia's unpreparedness, and lessons from the World War to substantiate his statements, General MacArthur told Philippine officers at the Command and General Staff School that they were taking the only course to preserve their liberty.

"When the Philippine defence plan has reached fruition," the General declared, "it will represent a defence strength that will give hesitation to the strongest and most ruthless nation in the world. No chancellery, if it accepts the opinions of its military and naval staffs, will ever willingly attempt to attack the Philippines after the present development has been completed."

POTENTIAL ATTACK

"Any government that should prepare, and send overseas a force of sufficient strength to attack the Philippines," he said "would have to consider carefully the possibility of any other potential enemy taking advantage of the situation and entering the contest at a time when the aggressor was seriously committed and even embarrassed in the Philippines."

General MacArthur explained that, in addition to the army and reserves now being trained, the plan provides for development of a system of fortifications at the few possible landing places, an air force and a fleet of fast torpedo boats to defend the island shores.

DEVOTION OF DOG

BROUGHT 'EYES' TO BLIND MAN

Many of you have heard of the Seeing Eye Foundation which trains dog-guides for the blind. This work really does much more than help the blind to have confidence in going about freely, even in the midst of heavy traffic; it frees them from a sense of helplessness and gives them a fresh start. William Heyliger was interested in it. Investigated the work at Morristown, N. J.—indeed he spent many weeks at the Seeing Eye Foundation—and the result was "Dark Conquest," the story of Jerry Lane. It was Lady Nan who saved Jerry, who became not only his "eyes" but his devoted pal, helping him to conquer his fear, pull himself out of the slough of despair, and find himself in a new world, where hope and achievement were possible.

All those who love dogs will enjoy "Dark Conquest," and all who can sympathize with the nature of Jerry's struggle. A story of heroism, the inner heroism of self-conquest; the story of Lady Nan, whose steadfast devotion and obedience brought "eyes" to a blind man.

WEALTH FROM WOOD

We may have to amend the proverb about leather and say in future: "Nothing like timber." Some of the products the chemist can draw from this new raw material were mentioned by Lord Stonehaven a while ago at the annual meeting of the Empire Forestry Commission.

They include (apart from paper and artificial silk, two marvels that everyone now knows) grease, excellent sugar, proteins and carbohydrates; indeed all the elements of food for a hungry man.

Germany has for some years been looking to her forests as possible provision factories in time of war, and one of the Professors of Heidelberg claimed recently, that imports could, if necessary, be dispensed with for the sustenance of animals. As with food, so with raiment, the time may come when trees will dress us. Wool and cotton and novel kinds of cloth may presently derive from wood, the human trunk being clad from the tree trunk. Then the aesthetic admiration which mankind (till this era of clearance and jerry-building) has always felt for gracious timber will be fortified by a highly commercial regard.

A certain liveliness in the forestry world was reported by Lord Stonehaven, and now that trees are beginning to disclose fresh manifold economic uses, there should be still more activity in conserving and developing the wonderful timber stocks of the Empire.

The Chairman of the Forestry Commission of Britain has put our total timber area at 2,500,000 square miles, of which about one half rears merchantable supplies; but as yet in only a few parts of the Empire is there a balance between the annual cut and the annual growth.

There remains enormous wastage of valuable commercial timber in some areas.

In Africa the natives habitually take the choicest woods for the meanest purposes, employing ebony for the posts of huts with the same prodigality that American farmers once used pencil cedar for their outhouses.

Empire wastage should be stopped and the Empire trade in timber reorganised, for this is one of the commodities in which we could be well-nigh self-supporting.

It is ludicrous that Great Britain should have to pay a yearly bill of £80,000,000 for wood, out of which only about £5,000,000 is for imports from the Empire.

Owing to the intermittent weather the charity concert organised by the Hong Kong Portuguese Amateur Artists which was to have been held at the Club de Recreio last night was postponed to another date, which will be announced shortly.

WAR—WHAT FOR?

Points Of View

"Underneath the tragedy of Spain is the struggle between the Haves and the Have-nots," said Canon Donaldson, speaking in Westminster Abbey recently.

"Throughout the world, in all the civilised nations, that struggle is proceeding. The only final remedy lies in establishing justice and equity among nations and men."

For two centuries in Europe the accepted philosophy taught that poverty was the fault of the poor, thus adding insult to injury; whereas we knew now that poverty in the midst of plenty was due to the mismanagement of man.

Modern poverty was the deadly foe of health and happiness for millions of our people. It undermined self-respect and violated the dignity of personality. It drove men to despair and created and crystallised class distinctions.

"WHY FIGHT?"

Bishop Welldon, formerly Dean of Durham, stated in an interview, that he hoped the time would come when the working class in all civilised nations would refuse to fight; then, and only then, would peace be assured.

"Why should they fight?" he asked. "They are not gainers by victory; they are losers by victory, as well as by defeat, and upon them the sufferings of warfare chiefly fall."

"WORTH DEFENDING."

Sir Thomas Inskip, Minister for the Co-ordination of Defence, appealed for a stimulus to recruiting at a British Legion service at Stranraer, Wigtownshire.

"If this country is worth living in," he declared, "it is worth defending." When we looked round the world to-day, he remarked, we saw that there was not a single nation in Europe that could offer the same advantages of security and liberty that we enjoyed in this realm of Great Britain.

"Let them," he added, "while they remembered the heroism of the men in the Great War, make in the sight of God a fresh resolution of devotion to our country's service that she might be still the little, blessed land that inspired the idealism of our race."

MANY FORMS OF SERVICE

It was a matter of great regret to all of them, Sir Thomas Inskip proceeded, when they read, from time to time, the records published of recruitment to the different Services of the Crown, that the number fell so sadly short of what was required, not for any purpose of aggression, but solely for the purposes of defence.

He hoped that one result of that afternoon's service might be that those who saw the example before them of others would be quick to follow in their footsteps and enlist in one of the many forms of public service.

A congregation at the service of more than 1,000 included the Earl of Stair (Lord Lieutenant of Wigtownshire), the Countess of Stair, and Sir Herbert Maxwell of Monreith.

SINO-JAPANESE RELATIONS

Negotiations To Open In Tokyo

JAPAN'S MOVE IN CHENG TU

Strong Comment In London

London, Sept. 5. The "Times" in a leading article, says that apparently Tokyo means that the Chengtu incident shall have capital value. The army and navy have ensured that the demands to be presented to Nanking are stiff and sweeping. The phrase "The relations with Japan must be such that a repetition of such outrages will be avoided" might, and probably will, be interpreted in a number of ways.

There are few signs that Japan is prepared to be conciliatory. The demands are ominously phrased. The Japanese are adept at turning a molehill into a volcano, but on this occasion the machinery for the transformation scene cracks, and there are lacunae in the illusion.

To charge Nanking with complicity in a pointless act of violence is to underrate the acumen of the Chinese. It is unlikely that the matter will be allowed to rest.

TWO MOTIVES

Japan's disproportionate show of indignation has two motives—firstly, the usual desire to embarrass the Nanking Government as much as possible at every turn; and secondly, to get some kind of a foothold in Chengtu.

It is an open secret that General Chiang Kai-shek contemplated making Chengtu the ultimate refuge of the Nanking Government from Japanese pressure on the coast, and the Japanese, who are the most inquisitive of races, would in the circumstances wish to be well informed about the developments in Szechwan. The Consulate makes a good listening-post and the need to protect it may in a time of crisis come in handy as a pretext.

CHIANG KAI SHEK STILL HOPEFUL

PEACE EFFORTS WITH KWANGSI LEADERS Temporary Breakdown

Canton, September 5. Notwithstanding the Central Government's magnanimous attitude and constant endeavours to arrange a peaceful solution of the Kwangsi troubles, in pursuance of its policy of peaceful unification, and the favourable reports of an early peace settlement, it now transpires that a hitch has taken place in the negotiations, due to the unyielding and defiant attitude of Generals Li Tsung-jen and Pei Chung-hsi.

Consequently, the expectations of all who are anxious for peace have been dashed to the ground, and the situation has again assumed a serious aspect.

It is reported that the hitch in the negotiations for a peaceful settlement is due to the following demands of Generals Li Tsung-jen and Pei Chung-hsi:

(a) The troops of the Central Government to be withdrawn and sent back to North;

(b) A guarantee to be given that no troops of the Central Government shall be sent into Kwangsi Province;

(c) Kwangsi troops to remain as they are at present and not to be reduced in number or disbanded; and

(d) The Central Government to help in paying the way for the maintenance and re-organisation of the Kwangsi Army.

Well knowing that it would be impossible for the Central Government to agree to such proposals, and instead of wasting time in negotiating by telegraph, Mr. Koo Ching and Generals Chu Pu-teh and Ching Chih hastened back to report to Marshal Chiang Kai-shek.

General Li Tsung-jen and Pei Chung-hsi also demanded the withdrawal of the Central Government's troops from the borders of Kwangsi, and that a war of resistance against Japanese invasion of Chinese territory be immediately proclaimed by the Central Government.

CHIANG IN CONFERENCE

It is said that immediately after the return of the three peace mediators together with Mr. Liu Way-chang, the Kwangsi representative from Nanning, Marshal Chiang Kai-shek called two meetings of his Generals to consider the Kwangsi demands.

The sudden departure of Generals Ho Kin, Hung Sik-hwee and Chiang Ting-man for Hunan, Kwangsi and Fukien Provinces on the day of the return of the peace mediators to Canton, has led to a number of rumours, the purport and outcome of which can only be surmised.

Reports of the result of the negotiations are rather conflicting, and the truth is only known to those who have taken part in the negotiations.

STRENGTH OF FORCES

The Kwangsi warlords command a force of about 100,000 men, composed of regulars and volunteer conscripts, poorly armed and seething with discontent, whereas the invading armies of the Central Government consist of over 300,000 well-armed and thoroughly disciplined troops with a formidable air force, and artillery, tanks etc., complete in every detail.

The fate and the punishment that awaits the rebellious Kwangsi malcontents can therefore be well imagined.

Instead of being loyalists co-operating with the Central Government in the work of unification, so as to enable the whole country to present a strong and united front to foreign aggression, and invasion, it looks as if the Kwangsi irreconcilables prefer to go down in history as rebels.

As to the future of the Nineteenth Route Army, it is said that although the defiant language of Generals Tsai Ting-kai and Chiang Kwong-nai in their Nanking manifesto may have caused Marshal Chiang Kai-shek some displeasure, it is believed that Marshal Chiang Kai-shek will favourably consider the question of recommitting the Nineteenth Route Army when the time is opportune for resisting foreign aggression and invasion.

KWANGSI ENVOY IN CANTON

Convivial Gathering At Dinner

BRIGHTER PEACE PROSPECTS

Canton, Sept. 6.

It is reported that Marshal Chiang Kai-shek is still in a conciliatory mood and intent on bringing about a successful peace settlement.

It is gathered from a reliable source that he has telegraphed the result of the negotiations to Marshal Feng Yue-hsiang, and asked him to use his influence with Generals Li Tsung-jen and Pei Chung-hsi, or come to Canton if necessary.

It is also reported that Marshal Chiang Kai-shek will hand Mr. Liu Way-chang, the Kwangsi representative of Generals Li Tsung-jen and Pei Chung-hsi a letter requesting Generals Li and Pei to appoint a suitable place for a meeting and a personal heart-to-heart talk for the purpose of hastening a peaceful settlement.

Mr. Liu Way-chang has fixed to-day as the date for his return to Nanning, and yesterday at noon he was invited to a parting dinner given by General Yu Han-mow and other Generals in his honour at the Yuet Shau Hotel at Koon Yin Mountain.

The guests dispersed at 1.30 p.m., and all expressed the hope that peace negotiations would have a successful ending.

According to well-informed official sources, it is understood that mutual explanations having removed all previous suspicion and misunderstanding, it is hoped that all existing difficulties will now be overcome, and that the Central Government will soon be able to make a public announcement of the successful conclusion of the peace negotiations.

WOMEN RAISE THEIR VOICES IN PROTEST

Proclamation Issued In Geneva

APPALLING HORRORS OF CIVIL WAR

Murder Of Women And Innocent Children

(Hong Kong Daily Press Special)

Geneva, September 5

The appalling horrors of the Spanish civil war which reveal more and more clearly the influence exercised by Moscow in its fight against religious culture and national heritage of the Spanish people, has led to the assembly in Geneva of the general committee of the Women's World League against Bolshevism and war.

The committee published on Saturday the following proclamation to all women of the world: "Horrible by eye-witness reports about the repulsive crimes being committed in the civil war in Spain where every day, at the command of the Moscow Central Organisation for world revolution, thousands of men, women and innocent children are being cruelly martyred, mutilated and murdered, we raise our voices in protest and appeal to the world's conscience.

"With profound sorrow we see the same forces being unleashed in unhappy Spain which thrust Russia into the abyss of misery and which are everywhere at work to destroy religion and family ties and to involve all peoples in murderous war.

CALL FOR SUPPORT

"More than twelve million soldiers are in readiness to rush with their bayonets to help those disturbers who, at Moscow's command, are arising everywhere. It is the duty of the women of all nations to remember their mission as guardians of faith, family and to resist this scourge.

"The Women's World League declares itself for peace of the fatherland, civilisation and religion. We call upon all women of the world to act together and support us unanimously in our fight."

REBELS CELEBRATE VICTORY

Songs And Dances In Demolished Town

Hendaye, Sept. 5.

Thirteen government defenders were killed in the final clean-up as Irún fell, which leaves the way open for an insurgent advance on San Sebastián, at the same time cutting off government supplies from Barcelona.

The insurgents celebrated the victory with songs, dances, and repeated shouts of: Viva España, arribe España, while amid the smoking ruins of the town little red and gold flags were fastened on the blackened walls of houses.

When newspaper correspondents were permitted to cross the bridge they were greeted with a Fascist salute from General Molas soldiers.

BRIDGE HEAD OCCUPIED

Red Guard Driven Across Frontier

IRUN IN CONTROL OF INSURGENTS

(Hong Kong Daily Press Special)

Hendaye, Sept. 5.

The military situation was still unchanged on Saturday noon, the approach to the international bridge on the Spanish side of the frontier was still in the hands of a small party of ten Red militiamen. But shortly after midday, the National troops brought up a gun which was fixed in a key position on the bank of the frontier river, Bidassoa, and from this position were able to pour down heavy fire on the position of the Reds along the Irún-Hendaye road as well as on the Spanish side of the international bridge.

Meanwhile the Red guards on the bridge had been increased to thirty but under the murderous hail of bullets that poured down on them unceasingly, the guards fled across the bridge to the French side of the river. Soon afterwards the Nationalist armoured car took possession of the bridge head.

About 400 Red militiamen had taken up the position along the railway from Irún to Hendaye. They offered a very stubborn resistance. Their aim seems to have been to protect the ammunition transport from Barcelona to Hendaye, destined to proceed from there to Irún and San Sebastián. This manoeuvre seems to have been successful.

RED SNIPERS

The town of Irún is now almost entirely occupied by the National troops who were obliged to search every house minutely as they were frequently being shot at by Reds in hiding. Many buildings in the town are still in flames and from time to time violent explosions occur as the flames reach concealed ammunition stores.

How many of the original 14,000 inhabitants survived is not known, but large numbers are certainly buried beneath the ruins of homes destroyed by bombs from the air or from gunfire. Many civilians were killed in the streets by gunfire. In Fuentarrabia several hundred Red militiamen have assembled, but as they have very little ammunition, they are not expected to offer much serious resistance.

Nevertheless the task of the National troops to clear up the town and battlefield is beset with difficulties as every remaining Red seizes the least opportunity for taking revenge on the National troops.

GALLANT DEFENCE

Hendaye, Sept. 5.

Insurgents recaptured the Irún bridge head, following a gallant defence by two hundred Government militiamen. The gold and red flag of Spain is now floating over the Spanish frontier post at the end of the bridge. Tanks and armoured cars carrying machine guns battered down the last defences of Irún, after which the column of Legionnaires and Carlists marched through the centre of the town.

The majority of the militiamen took refuge in France.

NEUTRALITY IN CIVIL WAR

Germany Ready To Participate

(Hong Kong Daily Press Special)

Berlin, Sept. 5.

As is generally known, the French Government and subsequently the British government approached the German government some time ago suggesting that those states that had agreed to place an embargo on the export of war materials to Spain should form a committee in London consisting of diplomatic representatives accredited there to deal with the practical questions arising in connection with the maintenance of this embargo.

The German government at first asked for more precise information as to the function of the proposed committee. The diplomatic discussions that followed resulted in the attainment of an understanding in the last few days so that the purposes and competence of this committee are now clearly defined. Thereupon the German government declared that it agreed to the German-Charge d'Affaires in London taking part in the deliberations on the supply of arms to the parties in the conflict in Spain.

The chief function of the committee is to simplify the exchange of opinions of the Governments concerned on their concrete questions arising from their undertaking to prevent the supply of arms to Spain. Thus the committee serves to maintain clarity but has no executive powers or any authority to exercise control.

ARAB ATTITUDE STIFFENS

Palestine Strike To Continue

(Hong Kong Daily Press Special)

Jerusalem, Sept. 6.

The latest decision of the British Cabinet regarding the despatching of further troops and army reinforcements to Palestine and the threat to declare a state of siege has clearly led to a more critical state of affairs as regards the prevailing strike.

In well-informed Arab circles it is declared that the general strike will be continued with all available means concentrated to strengthen the efforts said to have been made to induce all Arab leaders, including Mufti, to join the movement.

The most serious difficulty on the Arab side is said to be the want of ready cash. The Strike Committee is reported to be inclined to make use of funds available for religious purposes, but are meeting resistance to this plan.

It might be stated that in general the wishes of the Arab Radical Wing go beyond what might be reasonably regarded as attainable.

REBEL LEADER ON SCENE

Jerusalem, Sept. 6.

A grim period is foreshadowed by the arrival of the notorious rebel leader Fauzi Bey and coincidentally the British Government's decision to send a first division from England to reinforce the eleven battalions in Palestine. The past week has seen a high level of terrorism and the highest British casualties since the disturbances began. Nevertheless hopes of the termination of the strike persisted until the news of the dramatic British action.

Thereafter the attitude of the Arabs appears to be hardening. Fauzi Bey, leader of the old Syrian rebellion, signalled his arrival by issuing a proclamation calling the Arabs to arms, signing himself as leader of the Arab Revolt in Southern Syria (Palestine). His prestige is attracting and emboldening the villagers, arousing apprehension that they may attempt a concerted attack on the settlements instead of operating from a distance as hitherto.

The force comprises twelve infantry battalions, four field companies of Royal Engineers, three companies of Royal Corps of Signals and three companies of Royal Army Service Corps.

This reinforcement will bring the British forces in Palestine to a total of 17,000 men, sufficient to allow the imposition of martial law, though it is hoped this step will not be necessary.

The "Telegraph" learns from Jerusalem that British troops yesterday reinforced the street patrols and pickets and barricades appeared in the streets.

EAST TO WEST FLIGHT ACROSS ATLANTIC

First Solo Achievement By Mrs. Markham

BATTLE AGAINST ELEMENTS

Louisburg, N.S., September 5.

Mrs. Beryl Markham's record-making trans-Atlantic flight ended in a forced landing in a field at Baleine Cove, at the northern end of Cape Beaton Island. The plane was badly damaged but Mrs. Markham's only injuries were scratches to her face.

The aviatrix scrambled out of the wreckage and walked to a neighbouring farmhouse, rang up the Air Club at Sydney, Nova Scotia and informed them of her safety. She then asked for a motor car to fetch her to the club immediately.

An aeroplane was sent to render help in taking the airwoman to Sydney if possible.

She had been in the air for twenty four hours and thirty minutes.

ANXIETY DISPELLED

London, Sept. 5.

Anxiety was aroused in London earlier to-day for Mrs. Beryl Markham by adverse Atlantic weather reports. It was set at rest by a message received this evening from Halifax, Nova Scotia, that her Percival Gull aeroplane passed Newfoundland at 10.50 a.m. local time. This was the first authentic news of the airwoman since she passed the Irish coast last night because the machine is without wireless apparatus. "The aeroplane was flying low and, after circling over to harbour at Renew, Mrs. Markham continued her journey to New York."

The weather was then improving and the sun had broken through. Mrs. Markham, who learned to fly in Kenya and is the first woman to cross the Atlantic by air alone from east to west, took off from Abingdon aerodrome near Oxford yesterday at 5.50 p.m. GMT.

A later message from Halifax says that Mrs. Markham's plane made a forced landing at Bauline, a small settlement ten miles from Louisburg, Nova Scotia, and adds that she was unhurt, according to first reports.

BOWLS RINK FINAL THIS AFTERNOON

KEEN STRUGGLE IS ANTICIPATED

The final of the Open Rinks competition of the Hong Kong Lawn Bowls Association will be played to-morrow, weather permitting on the Hong Kong Football Club Green at 3.30 p.m. and promises to be an interesting encounter.

The finalists are: J. S. Landolt, A. S. Gomes, W. V. Field and R. F. de Luz (skip) of the Craighengower C.C. against D. M. Khan, A. K. Minu, M. Y. Adal, and A. R. Dallah (skip) of the Indian Recreation Club.

The Craighengower men are favoured to win as they have the better combination; but the splendid manner in which Dallah and his men overcame a strong Craighengower quartette last week on the Recreation green, is indicative of the fighting possibilities of the Indian rink.

Below is given the passage of the two teams to the final:

A. R. Dallah's Rink

INTERPORT CRICKET TRIAL IN SHANGHAI

FURTHER WORRY FOR SELECTORS

The selectors were given further cause to worry as a result of performances last week in the inter-port trial cricket match which took place on the S.C.C. ground, for although several confirmed expectations and practically played themselves into the team, there were others who did not come up to form. Notable was the absence yesterday of a good opening pair of batsmen, H. A. Sevenoaks and P. V. Simpson failing to impress, and L. F. Stokes and E. H. Anstice on the other team, only giving a slightly better performance.

P. Madar's XI had first knock in the match, and put on 165 runs in just over three and a quarter hours a late stand between F. P. Bailey and S. F. Shroff saving the side from being dismissed for just over the century. In reply A. J. Barson's XI went in and made 194 runs for 8 wickets, the skipper and R. Booth both retiring after they had scored a half century, in order to give the later batsmen a chance. H. V. Parker scored 42 in a forcing innings, but was distinctly lucky not to have been out as he had three lives, the first off the ball he faced.

The impressive batting performances by A. J. Barson and R. Booth, who are certain for the interport team, augurs well for Shanghai. They have been very consistent throughout the season. Neither gave a chance yesterday, although both were beaten by the bowling on one or two occasions.

WILFRED LAWRENCE TO DEFEND FIVE TITLES

220 And 440 Yards Attract Few Entries

European Y. M. C. A. To Compete After Four Years

CLASSIC EVENT PROMISED IN 100 YARDS SPRINT

Entries for the Colony Swimming Championships, under the auspices of the V. C. Recreation Club to be held on September 15, 16, 17 and 18 commencing at 6 p.m. on the first three dates, and at 9.15 p.m. on the final night, has drawn a representative entry from the Army, University, South China A.A., European Y.M.C.A., Mak Ngah Association (Canton) and the V.R.C.

These championship events will see the first appearance of the European Y.M.C.A. in over four years and competition is expected to be further advanced by the pick of a representative Army side. It is however a disappointment to record the poor entry received for the 220 and 440 yards free-style championships.

Some speculation is felt over the South China A.A. entries as word has been received that the championship dates coincide with those of the Kwangtung Provincial Aquatic Meeting to be held in Canton.

Wilfred Lawrence (V.R.C.) and present holder of both events, should easily retain his titles in the 220 and 440 yards respectively.

The best event of the meeting promises to be the 100 yards free style.

In addition to Lawrence (the holder) there will be Oliveira (University) Norman Lee (S.C.A.A.) R. L. Ozerio (University) and Riffman Hamilton (Army) and competition is bound to be very keen. Liow Roza Pereira, a competitor for many years in the 440 yards event, is not competing this year as he is concentrating on the 880 yards and the High Diving. He is paying particular attention to the latter event as the Army representatives have high hopes in capturing this title. At the V.R.C. pool last week, the Army men gave a splendid account of themselves and are consequently starting as favourites.

BACK STROKE
A fine race is expected in the 100 yards back stroke when Lau Po Hei (University) the former Colony and present interport champion will compete with Wilfred Lawrence, the holder of the Colony record, Shu Boon Hoon, of the Mak Ngah Association (Canton) and others.

The Hong Kong University, present holders of the 200 yards free-style relay will be seriously challenged by the V.R.C. and it is interesting to note that the Army and S.C.A.A. are making their debut in this event. Six teams have entered including two from the European Y.M.C.A., one being a junior side, entered for the purpose of gaining experience.

The Ladies' 100 Yard free style championship of the Colony should also prove very interesting as Miss Yeung Sau-chun, sister of the present holder of the title, Miss Yeung Veronica Thirlwell for the title which the latter will probably win. The following is the full list of entries:

INTER-CLUB EVENT

V.R.C. Defeat Canton Aquatic Club

An interesting inter-club swimming meet was held at the Victoria Recreation Club when the home team met the Canton Aquatic Sports Club in a series of three events. At the conclusion of the programme a water-polo match was played.

Under Mr. T. F. Lo, formerly Hon. Secretary of the Chinese Athletic Swimming Club, the Cantonese put up a good fight, but were no match for their speedy opponents. All three events were won by the V.R.C.

In spite of his injured hand, W. Lawrence, the Colony champion swimmer exceedingly well, he won the 50 Yards free-style in 25 4/5 secs.

WINS IN SLOW TIME
E. M. Marques, Cheong Ka-do and Ng Kam-to, kept together for the first 50 yards in the 100 yards breast-stroke. Marques sprinted on the last lap and won with the time of 77 secs, his slowest time for this event.

The 200 Yards free-style relay proved an easy win for the V.R.C. who were strengthened by Lieut. A. J. Lewis, one of the Army's fastest sprint swimmers.

The Chinese lost the water-polo match by three goals to two. N. Delgado netted the goals for the winners, while Fong Kui-ho and Mak Wai-ming shot for the Chinese. The winners' team comprised V.R.C. and Army representatives.

Results were as follows:

50 Yards free-style:
1. W. Lawrence (V.R.C.)
2. Yan Man-hong (C.A.S.C.)
3. Ng Kam-to (C.A.S.C.)

Japan In The Philippines

What Is Happening ?

Purposeful Penetration

At the front door of the Philippines, Manila, the Americans are going out writes Willard Price in Harper's Magazine. At the back door, Davao, the Japanese are coming in.

Mindanao is the richest of the Philippines, situated at the southern end of the archipelago. The Japanese control its two leading industries, lumber and hemp. In its port of Davao came, during 1934, $279,000 worth of goods from Japan as compared with $11,900 worth from the United States. Ninety-eight Japanese vessels called at Davao that year, and four American. The Japanese now dominate Mindanao, and are calmly carrying on intensive economic penetration throughout the Philippines. Now that Brazil has imposed immigration barriers, the flow of Japanese to the Philippines will be greater than to any other country in the world excluding Manchukuo. And when the door can be opened wide in the Philippines, few Japanese would choose the 40-degrees-below-zero Manchukuo winter to Mindanao's eternal June, where every season is a growing season.

The feelings of Americans in Davao regarding the Japanese are mixed. Those in trade see their business fast disappearing. They cannot stand Japanese competition. Naturally they are not happy. Those in agriculture feel differently. "The Japanese will be our salvation," an American copra planter told me. His plantation is among the Bita-an natives—savages, never-conquered tribesmen who are continually making forays upon the plantations. "For three weeks," said this planter, "I've been sleeping under the trees guarding the place. It wouldn't be that way if the Japanese were running things." In the hemp country, which lies back of Davao, the Japanese are running things. Although surrounded by Basobo tribes with a bloody history of head hunting, the country is peaceful and prosperous. The tremendous Ohta and Furukawa hemp companies are a government in themselves.

A remarkable experimental farm financed by the Japanese planting corporations is introducing hundreds of useful plants to Philippine soil. Cotton was brought from Peru, coffee from Liberia, oil palm from Singapore, teak from Java, beans in all their varieties from Japan, the great pineapple from Hawaii, oranges from Malacca, avocados from California, sisal from Africa. Exhaustive soil tests are conducted. There are experiments in swine raising, poultry raising and fish farming. In other words, the Japanese are not in Mindanao to snatch a few easy earnings and depart. They are there to do a scientific and painstaking job for the sake of a long future.

The Philippines are a veritable treasure house of natural resources. Americans have not undertaken their development because of uncertainty that America would remain in the islands. The Japanese are not uncertain. As soon as America made clear her intention to leave, the American Institute of Mining received word that Japanese interests were endeavouring to sign contracts for the entire gold output of the islands. There has been lively interest in Japan over the recent discovery of chromite in such large deposits that the Philippines promise to be the world's chief source of chromium, invaluable to armament makers.

The iron ore is the best in the Far East and is desperately needed by Japan. The coconut yields glycerine, base of TNT, and coconut charcoal, indispensable in gas masks. And war cannot be waged without oil, which has recently been found in the Philippines. Timber is plentiful; cotton can be produced on a large scale, and sugar, coffee, hemp—the list might be continued at length.

In fact, the Philippines should be the natural answer to Japan's problem—lack of raw materials and need for markets. Even before "Independence," Japan had outdistanced all other countries, except the United States, in supplying the Philippine market. Now American restrictions on imports will of course stop exports—for trade is a two-way tide. If big brother will no longer accept little brown brother's sugar, there is no reason for the latter to pay big brother $50 for a bicycle when he can get one from his new guardian for $3. Increasing thousands of manufactured articles, necessities, comforts, luxuries will flow in at prices that the Filipinos can afford to pay—prices one half or one quarter those of similar articles from America. And the stuff of which these articles are made will flow from the Philippines to Japan.

Being near neighbours helps, of course. Steamers from San Francisco to the Philippines take about three weeks. From Japan proper, less than a week. Air travel will make the time factor negligible.

Frank Japanese do not say, "Japan is not interested in the Philippines." Of course she is interested. One of many proofs is this: The N. Y. K. line which serves the Japanese mandated islands is ordered by the Japanese government to include Celebes of the Dutch East Indies and Mindanao of the Philippines in every trip. To do this the steamer must leave mandated territory at Palau and make a round trip of ten days—at a loss. But the government has agreed to make such losses good with a subsidy. The ships must go—not for present business, but to keep the road open so that nothing may prevent trade and immigration from flowing into these two rich islands. In addition, immigrants are encouraged by ridiculously low steamer fares.

From the Japanese standpoint, the Dutch islands, Australasia and the Philippines are a unit. Together they constitute, after China, the next step of Japan's economic advance. Geographically also they are the next step, all coming within 500 miles of the 1400 islands which Japan holds under mandate from the League of Nations. The land is Palau, less than three hours distant by plane. Palau's new airport, her building of piers and blasting of channels, her frequent visits from Japanese warships, her easily fortifiable promontories, her entire adaptability as a naval base, worry the Filipinos.

At the same time there are strong undercurrents of thought in the Philippines favouring Japan. Here, as in China, the doctrine of Asia for the Asiatics is being promoted with growing success. In the four centuries of Spanish and American rule there was no assimilation of brown and white races. But the Japanese and Filipinos are racially related. They will amalgamate, in time, so that there will be no question of a ruling race and a ruled.

Cultures are also related, and are to become more so through the work of such organizations as the recently formed Philippine Society of Japan headed by Marquis Tokugawa of the House of Peers. Plans include the exchange of professors and students, radio programmes and motion picture films, and all other means by which Japanese and Filipinos may grow to have more in common.

Of old, the Filipinos studied Spanish, then English during the American régime. Now the trend is increasingly away from both languages toward Japanese. Two years ago the Philippine Constabulary started classes in Japanese and these have become so popular that they have spread throughout the islands. Because many of the Japanese negotiate large deals involving litigation, there is a rush among young lawyers to learn the language of Nippon. Some are studying Japanese law, anticipating that it will gradually displace American law. One Philippine newspaper summed this movement up editorially: "Our old bridges have been burned. Our new bridges must be Oriental."

But in addition to this strong trend toward Japanward, there is another current. Under the light American hand the Filipinos had in many ways more freedom than citizens of the United States. Today that freedom is being taken in, stitch by stitch. American bosses are going home, jobs are lost, young men are being drafted into an army that everybody admits is useless against the only nation whose existence gives any reason for it. Is it possible that the Philippines must choose between being free under the United States but not independent, or independent like Manchukuo but not free? In that case, back to America!

One hears worried talk among taxpayers who see clearly what must happen upon the decline of the sugar industry which now supplies 60 percent of government revenues. Two million sugar employees fear the loss of their jobs. Most vocal are leading Philippine business men who see a future of frowning tariffs, then economic collapse, the debris of which may be picked up by a certain saviour nation upon its own terms. Such men plead for a return to sanity and Uncle Sam.

Not, alas, that it will do any good. As time passes, America may be willing, eager, to readmit the Philippines. But conditions will have changed. For every day Japan will be enlarging her interest in the islands, filling in the place abandoned by America. So when the time comes that both disgruntled partners have learned their lesson and are ready to renew the connection it will be impossible—except through war with Japan.

The Japanese conquest of the Philippines will probably not be sudden or sensational. It will take the form of step-by-step economic penetration. As Japanese interests grow larger, the protection of them will become more important. If there are civil disturbances as in China, or as in the Philippines before American occupation, the "stabilizing power" of the Orient will feel impelled to restore peace; and to maintain it thenceforth. Such are the simple annals of empire.

KOWLOON VICAR GIVES GARDEN PARTY

SUCCESSFUL FUNCTION
AT ST. ANDREWS

Programme Of Music And Games

Spelling all sporting activities on Saturday, the rain failed to stop the Garden Party given by the Vicar, Rev. Mr. J. R. Higgs and Mrs. Higgs in the grounds of St. Andrews Church, Kowloon.

The guests arrived shortly after 4 p.m. and were shown into the Church Hall, where they were received by their host and hostess.

The grounds were decorated for the function and it was a great disappointment to all as the weather forced them under cover. Tea was served in the Hall followed by the usual indoor games following, such as the fishing pond, jigs-saw puzzles, skittles, hoop-la, jumble words and darts. Later when the sky cleared up the party adjourned to the grounds, where croquet and clock golf were played.

The prizes given for the highest score in all the games, were won by Mrs. Reid and Mr. J. C. L. Wong.

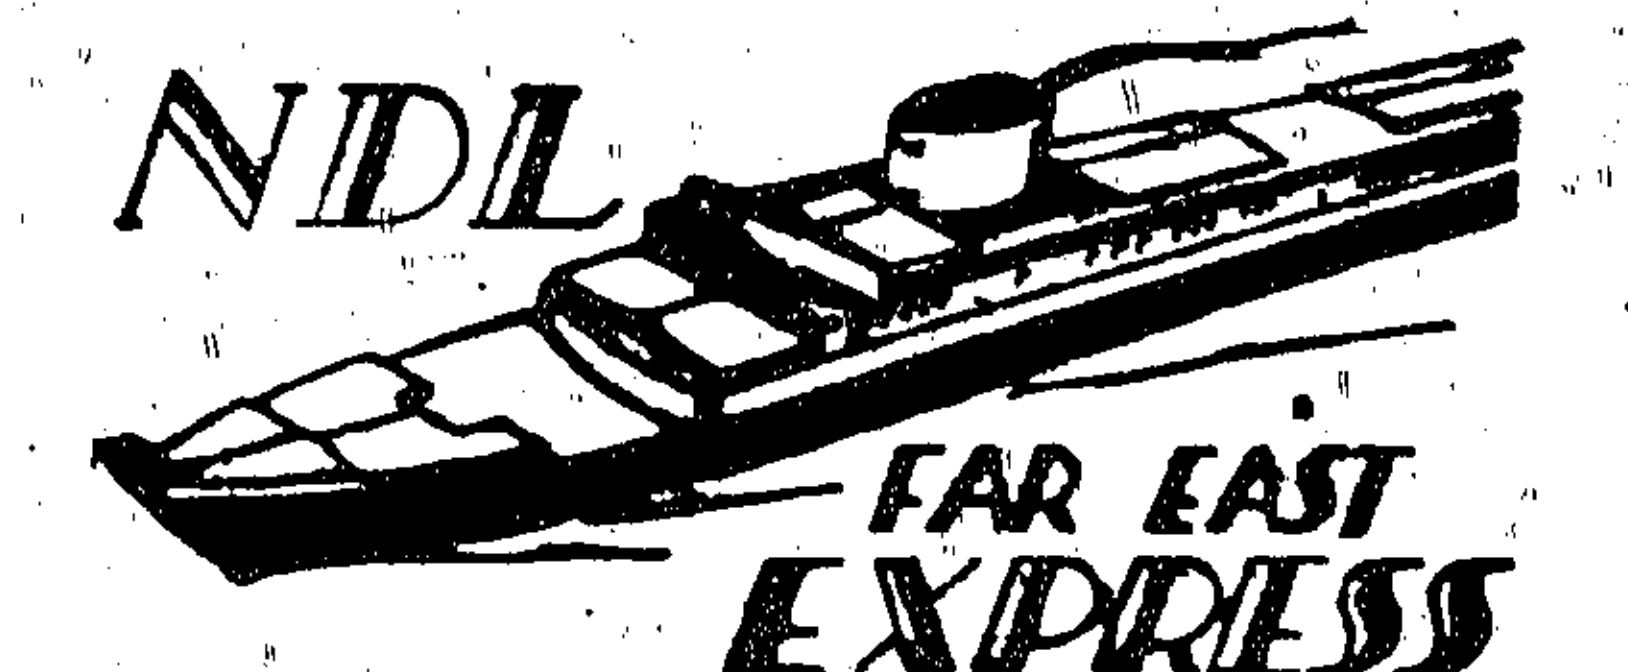

MUSICAL PROGRAMME

During the course of the afternoon, music was rendered by an orchestra comprised of Mrs. L. E. Kirby, Miss Flint, Mr. L. E. Kirby, and Mr. G. W. Evans, with Mrs.

M. Portallion as the soloist, and the renderings were all well received.

Among the many guests present were Col. E. St. G. Kirke, Lt.-Col. and Mrs. Reid, Major and Mrs. R. C. S. Bates, Mr. A. W. Ingram, the Rev. J. D. and Mrs. MacLean, the Rev. H. W. Baines, the Rev. L. THE SHARE MARKET

Harriman's Weekly Review

Saturday, Sept. 5.
Messrs. G.A. Harriman & Co.'s weekly share report and market review issued at noon to-day states:

The building activity of the past few weeks in the Hong Kong share market has at last blossomed forth into full bloom and the large trading done in practically all local descriptions during the week under review has reached almost boom-time proportions. The change of regime in Canton is inspiring great confidence in this Colony's future, and if the present support that is being given to our leading local stocks be taken as the barometer (as it rightly should be) then Hong Kong's future may be looked upon with optimism. Philippine mining shares have continued to claim plenty of attention and again a large volume of business has been transacted mostly at advancing quotations.

In Hongkong utilities substantial advances are registered by the following closing middle rates.—Trams $13.60, Star Ferries, $92, Yaumati Ferries $21, China Lights (old) $13.15, China Lights (new) $10, H. K. Electric $55.25, Telephones (old), $23, and Telephones (new) $9.50.

Lands have spurred to $40, Realty to $5.75 and Humphreys have exchanged at $9. A very large business was done in Hotels which were steadily absorbed by keen buyers, from $5.60 up to $8.15 cash and at proportionate rates forward. It seems not unduly optimistic to expect this share to touch par ($7.50) before dividend time falls due.

Dairies have reached $22.50, Watsons are wanted at $4.85. Cements improved a dollar to $11.50 buyers and Ropes rose to a buying rate of $4.

Wharves were readily taken up to $10.4 and are still wanted at this figure. Providents (old) rose to $1.95 buyers.

In the Sterling section, both Banks and Unions were this unsatisfactory demand, the first being bid up to $1595 and Unions sold up to $580. Sellers appear to be very scarce.

MINING

San Mauricos staged another meteoric rise to $3.90 and Suyocs (of the same stable) close at 99 cts. sales and buyers. Atoks and Big Wedge have been favoured and close at $1.09 and 77 cts. buyers respectively. The first-named Company is making a new issue of one million ten centavos shares at 50 centavos per share and the money to be obtained by this issue is, we understand, required to purchase additional machinery with which to further develop the Big Wedge mine. Consolidated Mines were extensively dealt in up to 12 1/2 cts. Northern Mines were sold at 54 cts. Salacots at 21 cts. and Benguet Explorations up to 48 cts and down again to 43 cts. Demonstrations are rather easier, shares being freely offered at 1.50 cum.

A newly popular share on this market Mamulaga have been eagerly taken up to 85 cts. closing buyers at this. Virac Explorations were dealt in at 28 1/2 cts. Syndicate Investments at 30 1/2 cts. and Universal Explorations around 65 cts. Both Manila and Hong Kong market close firm with buyers predominating.

THE EXCHANGE MARKET

MESSRS. ROZA BROS.

PHILIPPINE MINING NEWS

Russell Yale Hanlon, one of the pioneers of the Philippine mining industry, arrived in Manila on the General Lee recently to become consulting engineer for Roy C. Tuggle on the latter's mining projects in different sections of the Islands.

Mr. Hanlon is on a five-year contract with Mr. Tuggle, but he may remain here indefinitely. He is accompanied by his wife and their son, Roderick Hanlon.

When questioned by Press representatives after his arrival, he naturally was reticent, saying that he preferred to make no statements until he has had time to see things for himself. He declared, however, that with all the activity now going on it is his firm conviction that "the surface has barely been scratched."

Mr. Hanlon added that to-day there is more mining activity in the Islands than on the American Pacific coast, and the reason for that is that no new mines of any consequence have been found in the United States. He stated that American capital is watching with keen interest the development of the local mining industry.

Mr. Hanlon expressed a desire to see as soon as possible the various mining properties which will be under his charge. He is to leave shortly with Mr. Tuggle for Zamboanga to look over the Pamalasan mines a copper and gold property. His headquarters will be in Manila in the offices of the Tuggle interests at the Crystal Arcade.

Coming to the Philippines in 1910, Mr. Hanlon travelled extensively throughout the Islands. Altogether he spent 12 years in this country, occasionally making trips to Korea and China where he was also consulting engineer for several mining interests there. In 1913 he made a report for Benguet Consolidated and that report is generally considered as having started that company on its climb to a commanding position in Philippine mining.

Since leaving the Islands in 1922, Mr. Hanlon has been engaged as a consulting engineer on the Pacific coast. He was engaged in the early part of 1936 to examine a property of Lolo Gold Mining Company in Central Idaho, following which he made an examination of silver deposits at Canby, Modok County, California, for San Francisco interest.
